

SICE INTERNATIONAL SCHOLARSHIP

SICE has recently established SICE INTERNATIONAL SCHOLARSHIP commemorating its 30th anniversary in 1991. This scholarship is to help those foreign researchers who are young, have potential ability to contribute to the field of Instrument and Control Engineering, and come to Japan to present their papers.

The International Affairs Committee of SICE would like to inform you about this scholarship, and expect your application. The application is limited to:

- (1) those researchers who are under 40 years old at the moment of application,
- (2) those researchers who come to Japan from abroad to attend SICE2002 and present their papers,
- (3) those researchers who have sufficient achievements in their fields.

The International Affairs Committee of SICE will select some candidates from applicants and recommend them to SICE Headquarter, where the winner is decided. 100,000 in Japanese yen will be granted to the winner.

Those who would like to apply for this SICE International Scholarship are requested to fill the APPLICATION FORM FOR SICE INTERNATIONAL SCHOLARSHIP, and return it to the following address, no later than May 22, 2002.
